"SPELLING BEES" AT WELLESLEY

Girls Can Translate Old French, but Can't Spell Plain English Words

What d'you know? Wellesley maidens can't spell. Yep that's right.

What are they going to do about it?
Why, revive the old-fashioned spelling bee, of course. What else could they do and prove their New England wisdom?

The professors and instructors are "piled" over the execrable spelling of half of the thirteen hundred young women who are polishing up their educations. They are coming down to cases. Spelling bees will be in order one hour daily at the opening of the midwinter term and, furthermore, this will be in addition to the regular curriculum. (Curriculum, there's a good spelling word. They should try that on the girls.)

So perhaps—only perhaps—those love missives that the Wellesley maid-ens write to youths at Cambridge and New Haven and Philadelphia and Ithaca will show distinct improvement during the coming months. At any rate, the Wellesley professors and instructors hope that this will be true of the examination papers next June.

No, it is not true that the Wellesley professors and instructors are offering rewards for lists of words to be pronounced (there, that's another one to spring on those coy maidens) to their classes, but the maidens are already investing in dictionaries. They may come in handy. Also, they may be necessary.

Say, could you spell phthisis or prostrophis or heterodactylous or saracenical or prosopulmonata or hemorrhage right off the reel without preparation?
No?

Then don't laugh at those Wellesley maidens. Troubles are coming for them.—Boston Traveler.

BULLETINS GOING

ALL OVER COUNTRY

FROM BOARD OF TRADE AND ARIZONA DEVELOPMENT
BOARD

Newspapers Use Various Items For
"Fillers" and Thus Territory Receives Much Advertising

So insistent has become the demand for the monthly bulletins of the Phoenix board of trade and the Arizona Development Board that Harry Welch, who is secretary of both organizations, had 1945 copies each of his January bulletins printed.

Copies of the two bulletins are now being sent out to the newspapers all over the country, to the newspapers of Arizona and to the commercial organizations of the territory. The bulletins that go to the Arizona newspapers are supplemented by copies of the Arizonagram, the little paper published on the "Rose Special" to Parker, while copies of the little folder recently issued telling what the board of trade has done in the last six months are being sent to the commercial organizations. This little folder will doubtless give the other boards of trade and chambers of commerce throughout Arizona new ideas for their work.

It has been found that newspapers like to use the various items going to make up the bulletins as "fillers".
In this way Arizona gets a great deal of desirable advertising.

The first territorial bulletin was issued December 1 and while it was a good one, that for January is just a little better. Bulletin No. 2 follows:

Statement of 37 Territorial and 13 National Banks in Arizona Nov. 10 shows $23,749,046.60 total resources.
Tucson building record for 1910 approximates $300,000. Outlook for 1911 very favorable.

Thatcher, Arizona, has organized board of trade with representative men to direct the work.

Forests. The money will be used for school and road purposes.

Re-location of dam sites on Colorado river may place large tracts of land in vicinity of Parker under irrigation.

School enrollment at Tucson for 1910 shows an increase of 300 over figures for 1909. Pioneers Home at Prescott completed December 19. Structure cost $25,000, the amount being appropriated by legislature.

Aggregate customs received Arizona year ending June 30, 1910, were $232,796.52, an increase of 49 per cent over preceding year.

chinery have been received at Nogales as result of interest in oil lands in that vicinity.

Wickenburg reports several mining properties in vicinity extending operations. Splendid outlook for considerable increase in mining.
Conditions never more favorable.

Contracts for important works on Yuma project of the reclamation service have been let and work is now in operation.

Efforts are being made to have Parker Indian reservation opened up for settlement. Much valuable agricultural land in this locality is now idle.

Douglas is planning to secure the Mining Congress for 1911. All Arizona towns will help in the securing of this convention for an Arizona city.

Several business buildings, class A construction, value $30,000, now building at Nogales. Catholic seminary and school building costing $12,000 just completed.

Double tracking of main line railroads through Flagstaff, Williams and Ash Fork country is proceeding rapidly. Necessitated by increasing travel through and to Arizona points.

Supervisors of Maricopa county have approved change of name of town of Sidney to Buckeye. Buckeye is becoming famous for its alfalfa seed growing.

Tucson Chamber of Commerce offers terminal facilities and depot sites for E. P. & S. W. and for Port Lobos railroads. Railroads expected to build to Tucson in near future.

Work on territorial highways is progressing throughout. The Bisbee and Douglas, Bisbee and Tucson, Phoenix and Florence, Phoenix and Yuma, Prescott and Phoenix sections and other divisions being put in splendid shape. Fine bridge work wherever required.

Following is the January bulletin
